Dave the Community Champion from Tesco came to visit Year 4 to answer their questions about food waste.

Dear Dave

Thank you for coming into school. It was interesting learning what Tesco do. I learnt that all Tesco prevent food waste by reducing food prices (yellow stickers). Re-distribute food that is still good to eat you donate it to foodbanks and charities. Surplus food that isn't good enough for humans to eat is turned into animal food. Tesco try to get their food locally. I promise to make my leftovers into a meal and I promise to not waste my food and water.

Yours Sincerely
Cerys

Dear Dave,

Thank you for coming to our school to teach us about how Tesco helps people in the community.

I didn't know that Tesco makes past its used by date food into pet food or that they have a website. I learnt that they use Wonky fruit and vegetables.

I will try to waste less food by changing portion sizes, only buy what I need, plan meals, recycle food in the brown bin.

I hope you can come back soon!
From, Elkie.

We wrote letters to Dave to thank him for coming and to tell him what we were going to do to make a difference.

Y6

Did You Know...?

About a third of the planet's food supply is wasted every year. Supermarkets didn't always sell the superficially imperfect vegetables that didn't meet their standards.

What can we recycle?

We can recycle our apple cores, carrot peelings, bruised parts of potatoes or pepper seeds into compost. We can also freeze any leftover food for the next day.

Food Waste

Ella G

Did You Know...?

At least $\frac{1}{3}$ of the world's food supply is being wasted and food is a right, not a privilege.

What can we recycle?

We can recycle left over food that we could save for another day.

Food Waste

Poppy W

Why is reducing waste important?

It is important because someone else in this world could have eaten what you have thrown away, some people don't have much food at all.

How can we reduce food waste?

We can only put what we are most likely to eat in our lunchboxes or on our plates.

What is food waste?

Food waste is when edible products are not eaten and instead thrown away, often unnecessarily.

Why is reducing waste important?

It is important to reduce waste because some people don't have food so we can reduce it and turn it into other things.

How can we reduce food waste?

We can reduce food waste by freezing the left overs and having it the next day. We could also turn it into compost.

What is food waste?

Food waste is food that we haven't finished and that's been thrown away that we could of used for other things.

We made leaflets to raise awareness of how to reduce food and water waste.

FOOD AND WATER

Food Waste

We need to stop wasting our food. Instead we can recycle our banana peels and apple cores and things like that and turn it into compost. You could freeze leftover food and eat it another day. We need to be grateful that we have good food because some people don't.

Water Waste

We can stop wasting water by turning off the tap when we brush our teeth and only having a bath as a nice treat since it uses lots of water. We can also not take as long in the shower.

WASTE!

Did you know?
20 tons of food
is wasted every 10 seconds!

We made poster to help spread the important message.
